Continuing my salute to Black History month, I'll focus this week on William Henry Hastie, the first Negro federal judge in the history of the United States. He was also the first Negro Governor also a recipient of the coveted Springarn Medal of the N.A.A.C.P. Hastie was cited in 1943 "For distinguished career as a jurist and as an uncompromising champion of equal justice" for his "protest against racial bigotry in any area fighting for democratic processes, and for his 'standard of character and conduct.'" He was also honored that year by the trustees of the Schomburg collection of Negro History and literature of the New York Public Library. He was chosen as one of the 12 Negroes who had most distinguished themselves during 1943, particularly "for his heroic efforts to achieve full integration of the Negro in the United States Army."

After receiving his L.L.B. from Harvard in 1930, he was immediately admitted to the District of Columbia bar, entered practice and began teaching at Howard in 1933. He was awarded a doctorate in judicial science from the Dept. of Labor, prior to his acceptance of a federal judgeship in 1949. Hastie was in the words of the Saturday Evening Post, "recognized by both white and negro citizens of the Virgin Islands as 'the ablest governor' (they) ever had." He was born November 17, 1904 in Knoxville, Tennessee.

PICTURES - THE FAMILY TREASURE

Last week our topic was making your arrangements more interesting to the eye. Guidelines which are important are to use odd numbers of pictures or other objects and to use informal balance with one main focal point or center of interest. When a picture grouping is properly arranged, balance and will be comfortable to look at. Today our topic is "The Family Treasure." Family pictures and mementoes should be displayed in private areas of the home - bedroom, family room, hall or study. Small snapshots can be matted individually or used with one of the larger die-cut mats on the market.

An effective grouping will have pictures of the same general type and vintage. Remember, also, to have all photographs "look" toward the center of the arrangement.

Old letters, deeds, and bills of sale can add interest to antique picture groupings. Because there is no lack of family pictures and new ones are taken frequently, the photographs may be changed without upsetting the basic group arrangement.

FARM RECORD BOOK

Several farmers have bought the new Farm Record Book and inventory forms prepared by specialists at Auburn University. This is the best record book I've seen - so good in fact that there is a charge for it.

When the books first came in, I gave a complimentary copy to Mazie Bozeman, who lives in the Curtis Community. Kenneth Sanders of the New Hope Community, who is a full-time farmer and an Auburn graduate in agronomy, was the first farmer to actually come in and buy one of these Farm Record Books. Sanders believes in keeping a record.

To keep up with your farm business and to have adequate records in case of a tax audit, you need to keep some kind of record. This book provides an orderly way to keep a permanent record.

FARM TAXES

Speaking of taxes, I am reminded that the IRS will exempt farmers from a penalty on paying their taxes if their return is filed before March 1.

You need to check with your tax person to be sure that by filing by a certain time you can avoid any tax penalties.

PEANUT MARKETING

Don't forget the Special Peanut Marketing meeting tonight (Thursday) February 17, in the community room of the Farm Center in New Brocton. Charles Coker, head of the GFA Peanut Association at Camilla, Georgia, will be the featured speaker. Bob Hunnicut, peanut broker from Tifton, Georgia, will participate in the meeting, as will James E. Mobley, president of the Alabama Peanut Producers Association.

All groups interested in helping develop a more profitable peanut marketing program are urged to attend. We expect this to be an excellent program on peanut marketing. The session will begin at 7 p.m.

GARDENING WORKSHOP
Would you like to learn some secrets of successful gardening? What about new ways of preserving vegetables and fruits including drying? Do you know what to do to spray your fruit trees? If you have questions about this, mark your calendar for a special meeting Tuesday night, March 1.

At this gardening workshop Dan Presley will discuss ways to improve production in your garden.

Sara Hutchinson will discuss canning, freezing and drying of vegetables and fruits. You don't have to make a reservation - just plan to be with us at the community room of the Farm Center in New Brocton, beginning at 7 p.m.

HORTICULTURE TIPS

DAN J. PRESLEY
SMALL TREES
In pruning muscadines, remove all new canes (limbs) arising from the trunk. Also, cut all one-year-old wood back to two or three buds and remove dead and diseased wood.

CABBAGE PRODUCTION
I have seen some good looking cabbage transplants this spring. I know many of you will be putting these plants out soon. Cabbage required a lot of fertilizer. Use 5 pounds of 8-8-8 (2 1/2 quarts) at planting and sidedress with one pint of ammonium nitrate when plants are growing. This is per 100 feet of row. Worms will probably be the insect in cabbage production. Thuricide, Dipel or Btrol can be used to control worms on cabbage. These are very safe.

PRUNING MUSCADINES
You can prune muscadine grapes (scuppernongs) anytime from the first killing frost until just before growth begins in the spring. But if you wait until early spring, your plants will bleed. This may disturb you. Perhaps the term should be changes to weeping. Weeping doesn't hurt anyone - not even grapes. It is better to prune late than not to prune at all even if the plants ween.

Standing Room Only Crowd Meets With
Elba City Council

It was standing room only Monday evening as the Elba City Council convened for its regular bi-monthly meeting. Forty-three citizens, in addition to two regular radio reporters and this newspaper, were present as the city officials heard comments from the public on needs of the community.

While the majority of those present were prompted to attend by previous statements at council meetings concerning the hospital, a group of residents of the Curtis cutoff area presented a petition with 200 names urging a sewer line be installed from Kleiner's out 7/10 mile. This would afford sewer service to 14 homes and a major church. Assistant Attorney General Milton Belcher, whose parents and grandparents live in the area mentioned, was spokesman for the group and read the petition calling for the extended sewer line.

Belcher was promised that city officials would study the proposal along with the city engineer, and determine a cost prior to making a decision. Belcher also requested that he be so informed if the council felt they couldn't afford the cost, and he would work with the city officials to secure funding for the project.

Mrs. Gail Stephens addressed the council on the subject of the hospital. She spoke from a prepared statement and reviewed the history of the funding of the Elba General Hospital from sales tax of 1957 up to the sales tax ordinance of 1980. She expressed concern over the lack of adequate funding for the hospital, and stated she felt the ordinance passed by the city council in 1980 required them to start funding the expansion debt at the rate of $3875 a month. Stephens quoted from a sales tax ordinance earmarking "up to $75,000 a year to the hospital," and asked why it hadn't been funded.

Mayor Bob English reviewed the recent findings of Mrs. Frances Trammell, who researched the matter for the city council. He noted that the city was actually "ahead of the game" on the $141,000 reserve fund, even though it was in a city account rather than in an account of the Hospital Authority. English noted that these funds would be transferred to the Authority as the CD's matured during the coming weeks and months.

English stated that the Elba City Council was committed to having the best medical and educational facilities of any community the size of Elba, and is seeking ways to fund these services.

English said the three alternatives he listed two weeks ago have been expanded by other suggestions presently being looked into, and he

Escapeses Recaptured

Two escapees from the Elba Work Release Center were recaptured on Thursday, February 17, on Interstate 65 in Morgan County by Alabama state troopers.

The escapees - Jimmy Carr, age 26, and Albert Sitz, age 30 - reportedly walked away from the Elba facility during the night of February 16, on Wednesday night, February 16, and stole a wrecker truck at an Elba car lot. The duo apparently went to Opp, where they stole a pickup truck at a service station and then headed to north Alabama.

Local law enforcement officials began searching for the escapees at 9:30 p.m., with the search continuing around Ozark, the home of both inmates.

The search continued throughout the night and the next day until reports of the duo's recapture were received.

According to officials, the truck stolen by the escapees was involved in a minor accident on I-65, in which a car was sideswiped. State troopers responded to the accident and stopped the truck for questioning, at which time the occupants were found to be highly intoxicated. The men were then discovered to be escapees from the Elba facility.

Carr, a white male, was serving time for the theft of property in Houston County, and had a parole date of February, 1985, while Sitz, also a white male, was serving time for robbery, grand larceny and theft of lost property in Barbour and Dale Counties, and was up for parole in June, 1983.

Local law enforcement officials began searching for the escapees at 9:30 p.m., with the search continuing around Ozark, the home of both inmates.

The search continued throughout the night and the next day

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL Milton Belcher addressed the Elba City Council Monday night and presented a petition requesting sewage line extension on Highway 166 (Curtis cutoff).

Elba Men Arrested For Hog Thefts

Two young Elba men were among five Coffee County residents arrested last week in connection with the recent thefts of 23 hogs and a stock trailer from three rural farms.

The Elba men, identified as Tony Grimes, age 20, and Tab Driggers, age 19, were arrested along with Jimmy Scott Thomas, age 20, of Enterprise, Tim W. Bogges, age 22, of Enterprise, and Jerry Hutto, age 22, of New Brocton. All five men were charged with theft of livestock, while Thomas, Bogges and Driggers also face charges of theft of property.

According to Livestock Theft Investigator Frank Chirico, the thefts took place over a 45-day period, with the last theft reported on Wednesday, February 16. The 23 hogs were taken at five different times from the McDaniel Farm, north of Enterprise, and the Averett Farm, near New Brocton.

Barbeque

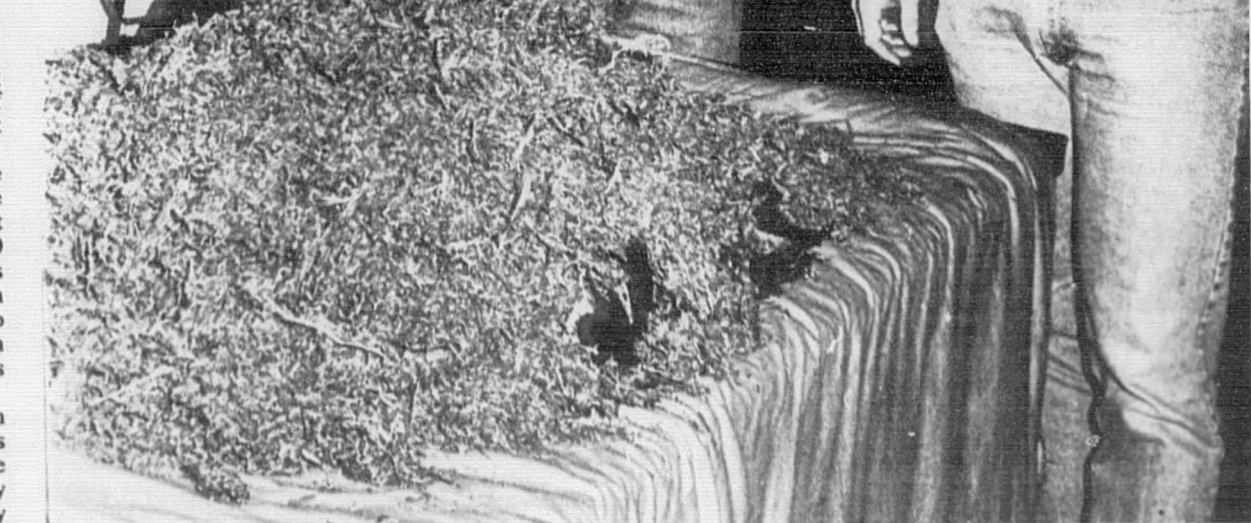

To Benefit

Victim

The Jack Assembly of God Church will hold a benefit barbecue on Friday, March 4, with all proceeds going toward paying the medical expenses of Mr. Jack Gatlin, a county resident stricken with cancer.

Gatlin has already incurred large hospital bills during treatment of the disease, and now must take a treatment every three weeks at a cost of over $400 per treatment. He receives approximately $480 per month from Social Security, but receives no Medicare or Medicaid benefits, which makes the impact of the medical costs devastating.

The barbecue serving will begin next Friday at 11:00 a.m., with plates being sold for $3.00 each. Anyone wishing to help the Gatlin family by purchasing a plate may call Ricky Haywood at 897-3377 to place an order. The plates may be picked up the day of the barbecue at Haywood Discount Drugs, located on Buford Street in Elba.

SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT INVESTIGATOR Dennis Hobbs, State Livestock Theft Investigator Frank Chirico, and District Attorney's Investigator Bruce DeVane look over a cache of marijuana confiscated Friday night following an arrest in southeast Coffee County.

$8,000 In Marijuana Seized

The Coffee County Sheriff's Department made one arrest and seized marijuana valued at $8000 on the streets, late Friday night on a rural Coffee County road.

Investigator Dennis Hobbs explained Friday night that M.J. Compton, age 36, was arrested on County Road 5 in southwest Coffee County for suspected trafficking in controlled substances; and upon searching his 1969 Buick, officers found approximately 13 pounds of marijuana. They charged Compton with trafficking in cannabis, a felony with a mandatory jail sentence of at least three years upon conviction.

Hobbs and District Attorney Investigator Bruce DeVane indicated they suspected the crumpled-up weed leaves had been brought into Coffee County from another state (Florida) for retirement and ultimate sale within the area. They declined to give details of their investigation, but indicated it had been ongoing for at least two weeks.

Assisting with the investigation and arrest were the three pictured above plus Randy Mobley of the Alabama Bureau of Investigation's narcotic division, and State Trooper R.W. Whitworth.

Brainstorms

By FERRIN COX

My family took some rare minutes to do something together Tuesday night of this week. We joined a bunch of other folks and enjoyed a steak supper at the Elba Country Club. After it was over, Hedy and I had to come back to work, but we can attest that those who missed this event missed a great meal. We extend a special thanks to those club members who did all the work... including the dishwashing.

Governor Wallace is in a Montgomery hospital with some relatively minor infection, according to news releases from his office. We hope that it is all it is; however, a shudder went through the citizens of Alabama when the news broke that Wallace was being hospitalized. Mixed thoughts included the cancer death of his first wife while she was governor; Wallace's own medical problems since the shooting that left him in a wheelchair, and even the recent sudden death of Alabama football coach Bear Bryant. We are confident that these thoughts were also in the mind of Press Secretary Billy Joe Camp as he stressed "relatively" minor problems" when talking to reporters.

Our own Representative Jimmy Holley sponsored the bill establishing the new Department of Economic and Community Affairs that will be headed by Bill Ruston. Holley did this at the request of Governor Wallace who wanted to combine several agencies that have lost some of the luster they enjoyed back when federal funding was plush. It will also oversee any new federal "Jobs" money approved by the federal government. This bill passed quickly even though there were some undercurrents about Ruston's prison record. Ruston has offered to resign, and as this is being written, he may still step down; but the bill is now law whoever heads it.

The U.S. Congress has moved a step closer to increasing Social Security taxes, with the committee on SS voting to increase the present taxes; tax all new federal employees and delay a cost-of-living increase. The whole Senate hasn't acted on the matter, but we can assume that something along this direction will ultimately become law. If so, hopefully the SS Trust Fund will be healthy enough to pay this country boy upon retirement.

The city council has made no decision on solving the funding problem that has brought on all the talk about the hospital/schools. Monday night a group of local citizens appeared at the regular council meeting and expressed a number of views. They also cited dates of a bunch of past city council actions relating to taxes and hospital. We basically agree with most everything they said, with one glaring exception: in spite of some opinions to the contrary, no funds intended for the hospital have been misappropriated.

The folks attending the council meeting failed to address the one problem the leaders must face -- how to fund current city services, fund school needs and fund repayment of the hospital loan for the next 25 years, and at the same time furnish additional funds to periodically refurbish the hospital. This country boy feels that if it is not all the money problems can be solved; and with the help of the many intelligent people in Elba, all the problems can be solved in time, if not overnight.

We often only add oil to the wheel that is squeaking the loudest, but today we must remember that there was also a request Monday night for extension of a sewer line... and others could be brought forth equally in need. We doubt that the sewage on the Curtis cutoff could be extended 7/10 mile for less than $50,000, including the required pumping station. We also remember being part of a committee appointed by the city council several years ago to investigate construction of a new library. Folks were demanding this, and ultimately the city bought Dr. Kimmer's clinic and converted it to a library. It is still being paid for, as are other purchases. Add to this the recession that has cut tax revenues everywhere -- there is no such thing as a "free ride" from government, as someone, somewhere, must pay the bill.

Problems with funding hospitals is not unique to Elba. It is ironic that this week our neighbors in Troy are facing the same problem. The city council was to address the problem Tuesday night, with full knowledge that 24 percent of the city's budget was being consumed by Edge Memorial Hospital, built in 1969. The idea being batted around in Troy is to sell the hospital and relieve the expenditure. The hospital board of Troy is reportedly opposed to the whole idea.

The Alabama legislature has voted to increase unemployment benefits to $120 a week. Previously, Alabama was the lowest in the nation at the maximum of $90 weekly. We support this increase and the increase in payments from both workers and employers. We also insist that reported abusers of the unemployment benefits be dug out and someone made an example of, to prevent further abuse.

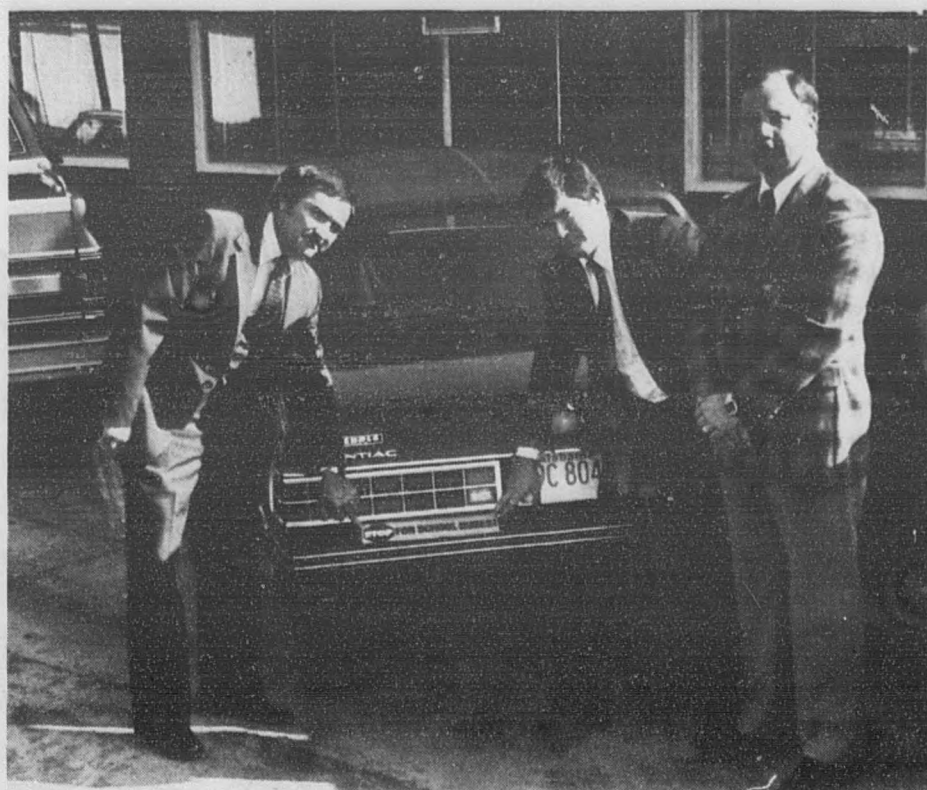

We agree with the U.S. Supreme Court opinion that makes the refusal of a driver to take a required sobriety test an admission of guilt. If we had any doubts of that female justice, Sandra O'Connor, she removed that doubt when she wrote this opinion concerning drunk drivers.

"Stop For School Buses"

Alabama Farm Bureau Insurance companies and the Alabama Parent Teachers Association have joined hands in trying to create more public awareness for school bus safety.

Farm Bureau is providing free yellow and black bumper stickers which read "Stop for school buses." The PTA requested that Farm Bureau sponsor the awareness program, and the company readily agreed.

"We strongly support the school children in this state and certainly want to do our part to promote their safety and well-being," said Goodwin L. Myrick, president of Alabama Farm Bureau. "We are making literally thousands of these bumper stickers available through our county offices and insurance agents across the state and urge every parent to put one on his or her car." Myrick said. We also hope county school superintendents will contact their county Farm Bureau office or local Farm Bureau agent, Myrick said.

Heflin Continues Fight Against Withholding Law

Americans are justifiably outraged that the Congress passed recently a law which will allow the Internal Revenue Service to receive ten percent of all savings and dividend income.

The new law, which is scheduled to take effect July 1, 1983, will require financial institutions to deduct ten percent of savings and dividend income and deposit them with the Internal Revenue Service. This withholding law is, in effect, forcing the citizens of this country to make interest-free loans to the United States Government.

I opposed and voted against the withholding measure in the United States Senate. During the regular session of Congress last summer, I offered an amendment to the Tax Bill which would have delayed the provisions requiring the ten percent withholding. Unfortunately, my amendment failed to pass.

Later, in the Lame Duck Session in December, I offered an amendment on the old Samson Road (1:30 a.m.), a disturbance at a home on Reynolds St. (5:40 p.m.) and a disturbance at Jackson St. (11:29 p.m.).

SUNDAY, FEB. 20 Activity included a complaint of loud music on Adkinson St. (12:55 a.m.), a wreck with injuries on Clanton and Highland (1:30 a.m.), a Rescue Squad transfer to Dothan (10:07 a.m.), a report of a suspicious rabbit on the old Samson Road (10:36 a.m.) and a disturbance in Kennedy Estates (8:22 p.m.).

Two Group Homes To Be Established

Two group homes, under the direction of the Volunteers of America organization will be established in the Andalusia and Enterprise areas. Davis, director of the Alabama VOA, made the announcement to members of the South Central Alabama Mental Health Center board of directors at their Wednesday afternoon meeting.

"HUD has awarded funding for two groups homes with 10 units each," Davis said. "One group home will be established in Andalusia and one in Enterprise."

"We hope we can begin construction on these soon," he told the board. "We have been talking with the State Department of Mental Health for more than a year to get something like this. It will be a valuable resource for this area."

Jim Stivers, executive director for the mental health center, gave board members an update on the Mental Retardation funding situation. He also announced that several changes in staff positions were being made in order to help balance the current budget for the center.

At the close of the meeting, Joe Hastings, Coffee County out-patient Department, presented a certificate to board member Judge James Sawyer, who retired recently from his position as probate judge of Coffee County.

BY: ANN SAWYER

The Annual Staff recently made a trip to Herff Jones, maker of our yearbook, in Montgomery to tour the plant. While there, they saw how the pages are made, how the yearbook is put together, and how the cover is made. After the tour, they are lunch at Red Lobster. Boy, was the food delicious! After lunch they went shopping at Eastdale Mall and Montgomery Mall. By the time they were finished shopping, it was time to come home. A good time was had by everyone.

Teacher Shows Film, "CPR For Citizens"

BY: ELSIE HILTON AND LAURI DOSTER

Mr. Mike Lindsey, teacher and coach at Zion Chapel recently showed a film, "CPR For Citizens," to Mrs. Hilton's 5th period Home Economics Class. The film was from the Public Health Department and was narrated by Orson Welles. The main points of the film were summarized as an

ABC technique so that someone could instantly recall them in an emergency. The (A) was for airways. These airways must be open and the head has to be tilted back and the chin must also be lifted. If this technique alone was used 1,000 lives a year could be saved. The (B) technique was for breathing. The rescuer must stop, look, and listen to establish whether the victim's breathing has stopped. If it has, the victim should be given four quick breaths and then the rescuer should begin. (C) Cardiac Compression. This required knowledge of how to do it correctly. It is of vital importance to get oxygen to the victim's brain within four to six minutes or the brain cells will die. The person receiving CPR needs 80 compressions per minute. The procedure to follow is 15 compressions and then two quick breaths (ventilations). These techniques should continue until breathing is restored or until a doctor says it's too late. It is estimated that 300 lives a day could be saved if citizens were trained in CPR. Coach Lindsey is now providing this CPR training for his Physiology class and as a result, the members of the class are certified CPR citizens. In the past two to three years, two certified students have been in the right place at a critical time and have been able to save lives. After the film Coach Lindsey held a question-answer session for the students.

This will conclude my report on Black History. I'll close honoring Marion Anderson. On Sept. 16, 1958, when the thirteenth session of the United Nations convened, Marion Anderson, "America's Ambassador of good will," world-famed contralto, the first negro singer to join the Metropolitan Opera, sat on the Human Rights Committee as one of the ten-member U.S. delegation to the United Nations. Miss Anderson came to the world forum an international celebrity and seemed always to have synthesized her art and her desire for world peace and freedom. In the intervening years, Miss Anderson traveled widely, and her belief in the oneness of all the world's people was fixed in the minds of her audiences by the spiritual "He's Got The Whole World In His Hands." Miss Anderson sought to improve understanding of the United States and of America wherever she went. When asked in Burma whether she would sing before Aungmye Thaw, governor, Orval Faubus, who had gained an international reputation as a segregationist following his attempt to prevent school integration in Little Rock, Miss Anderson replied, "If governor Faubus would be in the frame of mind to accept it for what it is, for what he could get from it, I would be very delighted to do it."

In May 1964, Miss Anderson gained distinction of being the only living American negro to have had a rose named for her, "The Marian Anderson Rose," a cherry-red grandiflora, developed by Dr. Walter Lammerts, one of the world's leading hybrid rose experts. Miss Anderson was selected "not only for her achievement in the world of music, but also for her contribution to the unification of mankind and world peace. A member of Alpha Kappa Alpha, Miss Anderson is a native of Philadelphia and is the wife of the architect, Orpheus H. Fisher, who she married on July 24, 1943.

India is a land of many gods. In Hinduism, there are at least 3,000 gods, some temples in India dedicated to the gods are extremely elaborate and the people are proud of them. Temples are located in the cities along rivers, and in the country side. Hindus do not conduct worship services such as Christians do. Rather Hindus go into a temple, bow to an idol, give an offering, get a colored finger mark on their foreheads, and that's it. They leave the temple with their souls as empty as when they came. Growing a long beard and mixing it with plenty of mud is one way that some Hindus think they can satisfy their favorite god. Sometimes a special dress or hairdo is a sign of being deeply religious.

NEWSPAPER GOES TO CAREER EDUCATION STUDIED

Mrs. Dubose's 5th grade English class recently studied the process of newspapers and decided to publish the first and last edition of the Dixon Street Journal, the Middle School Report. For the edition each teacher was asked to submit an article about their class and what they were studying. The Journal also included a list of holidays to come in February and March, a word puzzle, poems and an article on the Elba Jr. High Basketball team winning the County Championship. Mrs. Dubose stated that the class fully devoted their time into making the newspaper a successful and interesting one.

FIFTH GRADERS TOUR

On January 19, Mrs. Dubose's 5th graders journeyed to Troy for a day's visit in the Pike Pioneer Museum. They saw everything from gins to jugs from churns to china. Most of the items were used in Pike County during the 1800's. It didn't take the students long to realize those were not the good old days, as they had been told.

They also visited the many gift shops and to top off their day they ate at McDonald's. The students all agreed that the trip was an interesting and enjoyable one.

SIXTH GRADERS PREPARE PROJECTS

The sixth grade social studies classes of Mrs. Pam Smith prepared and turned in the projects for the year. Mrs. Smith stated that each student devoted much time to their projects and that the projects showed great neatness and creativeness. All of the projects are on display in the front hall of the Elba Middle School. Some of the projects are of the countries of South America and arranged according to land area or population, there are models both of village huts and the Amazon River, a replica of the first United States flag, states and their nicknames in directories and a T.V. screen displaying important facts on the Antarctic and Arctic Circles.

All parents of the students are urged to come by the school and view the many projects. The projects will be on display for approximately two weeks.

First of all, we sang "I've Been Working On My Club Work," led by Ron Bryant and Derrick Stinson. Then we had a puzzle on Dog Care and discussed care of your dog. Mr. Jack Tatum showed us dead worms from a real dog that was dead. We received two books on dog care. The meeting was adjourned.

NEWS OF LOCAL INTEREST TO OUR READERS

Betty Dorsey Honored As Woman Of Achievement

Mrs. Betty Dorsey was honored Monday night, February 14, as the year's Woman of Achievement, at the annual banquet sponsored by the Business and Professional Woman's Club of Elba.

Ms. Jane Morrow welcomed the 69 in attendance. Dr. Pat McFadden gave the invocation.

Jane introduced the honoree, her family and special guests.

Past Women of Achievement were recognized: Mrs. Katherine Mullins, Mrs. Mary Ringdorf, Mrs. Mary Dowling, Mrs. Nellie Martin, Mrs. Mable Lawless, Mrs. Sylene Stivers, Mrs. Myrtle Sellers, Mrs. Carrie Jacobs, Ms. Jane Morrow.

Mrs. Myrtle Sellers gave a brief summary of Betty's life and endeavors.

Betty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Benton of Opp, where she lived until leaving to attend college at Montevallo. She taught music in public schools in Auburn two years before coming to Elba in January 1946 as the bride of Kimmy Dorsey.

She is the mother of five sons who have kept her busy during the years. She has been active in all church, school and civic activities, and has shared her musical talents with the community. After 30 years, Betty is again teaching music.

"Her deep faith in God has enabled her to keep smiling and inspiring others to better things."

JoAnne Powell, Betty's sister, spoke a few words in praise of her sister for her love, thoughtfulness and inspiration to the whole family.

Mrs. Nellie Martin described Betty as a generous neighbor. "Betty has a deep feeling for her fellow man. Over the years she has given freely to everyone of her time and wisdom. Her service has always been unselfish and without any desire for personal praise, reward or even recognition."

Robert Louis Stevenson said, "That man is successful who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who leaves the world a better place than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem or a rescued soul, who never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it, who looked for the best in others and gave the best he had."

"Betty has achieved success!"

This is "Tournament Week" for high school basketball teams, and that means I'll have to keep the car filled up with gas for trips to Troy, Andalusia, Kinston, Zion Chapel and Red Level. It may sound like a busy week to you, but it's just the way I like it!

TIGERS CLINCH A WINNING SEASON

Coach Hank Kennedy's Elba High Tigers defeated Luverne Friday night, and in doing so wrapped up a winning season. A winning season in basketball may not seem like much in some places, but here in Elba our basketball teams have posted only three winning seasons in the past ten years. So, a winning season is something to be proud of.

Elba, now 12-10 heading into the Area tournament, won only three games last season (with all three coming over 1A schools), and got embarrassed a couple of times, not giving local fans much hope for better days ahead. However, Coach Kennedy came in and took charge, starting at square one and slowly working forward in hopes of building a foundation. He did just that, and with a starting lineup including three juniors, one freshman and only one senior, led Elba back to basketball respectability. The Tigers hit a late-season slump where they lost six of seven games, but they didn't quit and won Friday night to clinch a winning season.

The Tigers aren't ready to threaten for a state championship, but at least they're headed in the right direction.

A GOOD SEASON ACROSS THE COUNTY

I went to more basketball games this season than in many years, and it was a good season at schools all across the county.

Kinston had kind of an up-and-down season, but when you consider the players the Bulldogs have lost in recent years, it becomes clear that Coach Pete Kelley has done quite a job! Only two experienced players returned at Kinston, and one was injured; yet the Bulldogs held their own against all competitors and won a bunch of games. This could be one of Pete Kelley's best coaching years, bar none.

New Brockton regained its championship touch of 1981, but Coach Bobby Kinsaul pumped life back into the program after a disastrous year, and the Gamecocks' best days are coming. Watch for Brockton to get better and better in coming years.

Zion Chapel struggled to an 8-12 record, but Coach Mike Lindsey's team was just a break or two away from posting a winning record. The Rebs had an 0-7 record against county schools, a surprising stat; but against 1A competition the Rebs were 8-1 - not bad! Zion Chapel had a very competitive club this season and will have for years to come.

Enterprise rolled to another winning season under Coach Sam Weeks and wasn't that bad a 4A club. The Wildcats are hard to judge, because a lot of their wins came over smaller schools; but they looked pretty darn good to me.

SPRING TRAINING IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER

It's hard to believe, but spring football practice will start in just a couple of days for a lot of local teams. The spring drills will start as soon as basketball ends and will continue through March. The exact dates are still a little up in the air, however, when the pads start popping I'll let you know.

A BORING WEEKEND ON THE TURF

I'm not much of a TV fanatic and that was the only thing that saved me last weekend from a boring two days of watching the tube. College basketball is okay, if two good teams are playing - which wasn't the case in any of the games. I flipped over to auto racing, which is okay for about the last 10 laps. Oh well - my flower garden needed a little work anyway.

COULD IT ALSO BE SOFTBALL SEASON?

The spring-like weather last week brought out a lot of the softball fanatics, and there were a lot of practice games to be found all around the area. I saw a little of one game up at Legion Field, but it just didn't excite me a bit; and I went home thinking how goofy the Elba folks were. However, I got a phone call from a man in Andalusia looking for teams to play in a tournament this weekend. A tournament already! Maybe softball is ready to start.

While mentioning softball, it looks like it will be late June before the new fields will be ready. A lot of landscaping work is left, as well as construction of the concession-pressbox facility, so it'll be at least late June. By the way, all teams should stay off the fields until they're open. To get on them and practice will only delay the opening longer!

Nets & Lakers remain 1-2 in Youth basketball action

The Nets and Lakers both posted big wins last weekend to remain in a first place tie in the Youth Basketball League. The standings with one week remaining show the Nets and Lakers with 4-1 records, followed by the Hawks 2-3 and Jazz 0-5.

Lakers 18
Jazz 13

The Lakers pulled away in the third quarter and held on to post an 18-13 win over the Jazz. The Lakers held a slim 7-4 halftime lead, but outscored the Jazz 8-2 in the third quarter to pull away and rolled to the win.

Scoring for the Lakers were Dewayne Rowe 9,

Charles Kelley, director of the Game and Fish Division, says that he had been expecting the state record to be broken and would not be surprised to see even larger bass caught from Alabama's state-owned and managed public fishing lakes. "Our state lakes program has gained national recognition and is viewed as a model program by many other states. Florida bass have been stocked into most state public fishing lakes. Such a stocking is one of many management techniques used to improve the quality of fishing in Alabama."

Florida bass have also been introduced into many public waters throughout Alabama. Most of these stockings occurred during 1980 and 1981. Fisheries biologists expect a minimum of six to eight years before trophy Florida bass begin to be harvested in public waters.

Elba Tigers dump Luverne

Kevin Goosby and Dwayne Hooks scored two-points apiece in overtime Friday night to lift the Elba Tigers to an exciting 64-60 victory over the Luverne Tiers, in the Luverne gym.

The win upped Elba's record to 12-10 and guaranteed the Tigers a winning season.

The two rivals swapped buckets early in the game, with Elba taking its first lead at 9-4 on a three-point play by Kevin Goosby.

The Tigers' lead went to 13-10 late in the opening stanza, however, Luverne ripped off 8-straight points and went on to 18-13 early in the second quarter. Elba battled back behind the shooting of Goosby and Kenny Daniels and regained the lead at 23-21 midway thru the stanza. Luverne got hot in the closing minutes of the half and poured in 18 points to go in at halftime with a big 39-32 cushion.

Goosby and Daniels began to flex their muscles inside in the third quarter and pulled Elba within 47-44 with 3:06 remaining.

Bobby Guiley got hot from outside late in the stanza and hit three "long-range" bombs to cut Luverne's lead to 51-50 heading into the final stanza.

A bucket by Kenny Daniels at the start of the fourth quarter put Elba ahead by one at 52-51.

However, the Tigers hit only 1 of 7 free-throws during a three-minute span enabling Luverne to stay in the game. Luverne pulled even at 60-60 late in the game and had a chance to pull off the win, but a missed free-throw with :03 left saved the Tigers' hopes.

Kevin Goosby scored on a short jumper in overtime to put Elba on top 62-60 and Dwayne Hooks nailed down the win with :06 left when he hit two free-throws to give the Tigers the exciting 64-60 win!

The two rivals swapped buckets early in the game, with Elba taking its first lead at 9-4 on a three-point play by Kevin Goosby.

The Tigers' lead went to 13-10 late in the opening stanza, however, Luverne ripped off 8-straight points and went on to 18-13 early in the second quarter. Elba battled back behind the shooting of Goosby and Kenny Daniels and regained the lead at 23-21 midway thru the stanza. Luverne got hot in the closing minutes of the half and poured in 18 points to go in at halftime with a big 39-32 cushion.

Goosby and Daniels began to flex their muscles inside in the third quarter and pulled Elba within 47-44 with 3:06 remaining.

Bobby Guiley got hot from outside late in the stanza and hit three "long-range" bombs to cut Luverne's lead to 51-50 heading into the final stanza.

A bucket by Kenny Daniels at the start of the fourth quarter put Elba ahead by one at 52-51.

However, the Tigers hit only 1 of 7 free-throws during a three-minute span enabling Luverne to stay in the game. Luverne pulled even at 60-60 late in the game and had a chance to pull off the win, but a missed free-throw with :03 left saved the Tigers' hopes.

Kevin Goosby scored on a short jumper in overtime to put Elba on top 62-60 and Dwayne Hooks nailed down the win with :06 left when he hit two free-throws to give the Tigers the exciting 64-60 win!

Kevin Goosby scored 21 5, Siler 2.

The New Brockton Gamecocks outscored Zion Chapel 16-2 during a 49-minute span midway thru the second half to erase a 3-point Rebel lead and then held on down the stretch to post a wild 63-60 win, Friday night at Zion Chapel.

The win upped New Brockton's slate to 10-10, while the loss left Zion Chapel with an 8-12 record.

Zion Chapel scored first on a jumper by Dwan Pope and surprised the Gamecocks by leading throughout the opening stanza.

The two cross-country rivals played "cat and mouse" for the remainder of the half as the lead changed hands on almost every shot.

Zion Chapel scored the final two buckets of the half and at halftime went in with a 32-30 lead.

PAVING BEGINS ON DONALDSON ROAD... The long-awaited paving of the Donaldson Road began Friday, February 25, as county workers and private contractors laid 600 tons of blacktop. The project will be completed this week and the county crews will then begin paving at another rural site.

Commission Discusses 10¢ Per Acre Tax On Woodlands

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, Feb. 28, at the courthouse in Elba and discussed placing a 10 cent per acre tax on all county land classified as woodlands.

COMM. EUGENE BRADLEY and Comm. Glimmer Grant

The idea of adopting the tax came following a visit by Alabama Forestry Commission officer Wayne Roberts. Roberts came before the commission seeking $1,500 in funds to repair a tractor used in fighting forest fires. He reported if the tractor wasn't fixed, his department would have only one tractor to work fires throughout the county. The commission voted 3-0 (with Boutwell, Martin and Grant abstaining) to provide the funding, which will be matched by state funds.

Comm. Rex Boutwell stated several counties have a small woodland tax that provides funds for the Forestry Commission and suggested the Commission adopt such a tax in Coffee County. The commission agreed that additional funding was needed for the Forestry Commission, but delayed taking any action until it could be discussed again at the next meeting on March 14.

The bi-monthly meeting began at 9:00 a.m. at the upstairs courtroom in Elba, and the first order of business on the agenda was to take care of continued business from the previous meeting.

County Engineer Frank Charlton reported he had inspected the work site at the old Elba Hydro-Electric plant and decided all that the newly formed Elba Hydro-Electric Company needed was a dragline. Charlton estimated the firm would need the county's dragline for a period of three weeks and recommended letting the company rent the machine since it had an experienced operator. The commission voted to allow the company to use the dragline, as soon as Covington County completes its work with the valuable piece of machinery.

The commission signed documents to resubmit a project request for funds to be used for paving rural county roads. The funds, if received, would go toward paving 3 1/2 miles of roads. The total cost would be $450,000, and the county would be able to provide its matching share with actual funds and in-kind services.

In other action at Monday's meeting, the commission:

- *heard that no progress had been made on placing a directory-type sign at the Farm Center office complex;
- *was informed the county carpenter had completed work on repairing leaks at the jail, and that repairs at the Sheriff's Office would be done soon;
- *was told of an appointment it had with a Ford representative concerning a faulty bush-hog;
- *told Eng. Charlton to give a cost estimate on constructing a 10 x 10 building to be used by the countywide crew at the next commission meeting;
- *instructed Eng. Charlton to keep expense records on all county machinery, to prevent high repair bills on used equipment;
- *was informed the county carpenter would inspect the heating system at the Health Dept. in Elba to determine the extent of needed repairs;
- *thanked the City of Elba for use of its hot-pot while doing repairs on the roof at the county jail;
- *stated it would meet with Sheriff Brice Paul at its next meeting to discuss a large amount of 'overtime' being turned in by Sheriff's Dept. employees;
- *heard Judge Brunson state he had signed a $20,000 grant for the weatherization project in the county;
- *was informed the county had received $101,047.02 in Federal Secondary Aid Funds;
- *stated it would check with the county attorney before acting on a request by the Democratic Conference to appoint 11 deputy registrars to work during an upcoming voter registration drive;
- *granted a continuation to Ft. Rucker to use the Farm Center as an alternate assembly point in the event of an emergency;
- *received a letter of thanks from Enterprise Supt. of Education, Thad Morgan for the county's recognition of the school championship football team and marching band;
- *was informed the state would resume the distribution of food to needy families on April 1;
- *reminded county residents that there was still plenty of USDA cheese and butter available at the Social Security office;
- *heard a visitor question the county's policy of closing its offices during the lunch hour;
- *and, instructed the county engineer to resubmit the county's application for funding of a new bridge to replace the Snellgrove's Mill Bridge.

Asbestos Cleanup May Cost County School System $50,000

The Coffee County Board of Education met on Friday morning, Feb. 25, in Elba, and heard Supt. John W. Vaughan report that asbestos was found in two classrooms in Kinston and the lunchroom in New Brockton, and that the cost of removing the material would be an estimated $50,000.

BOARD OF EDUCATION members Harrell Carroll and Bill Boland listen to report on asbestos in county schools.

The entire County School System was inspected recently by experts and Vaughan stated, "I think we came out well compared to some other schools in the state. The formal report will come in May with instructions on how to dispose of the asbestos and I don't think it will cost over $50,000."

It was also reported that asbestos was found on some boilers in the county schools, but the only action necessary will be the placing of a warning sign and the requirement that workers wear masks.

The subject of the new elementary school planned for Kinston again came up, with Supt. Vaughan reporting he had assured the people in Kinston that the school would be built. The Kinston residents became upset with recent rumors that the construction might be delayed due to the asbestos removal project. In an attempt to clarify the local boards' intentions, Vaughan explained that the board had received $422,000 in state discretionary funds (the funds are already in a bond drawing interest) that must be used to build the new school in Kinston. An additional $78,000 will be received soon, which means the county board will have $500,000 earmarked for construction of the Kinston elementary school.

A second fund of $217,000 based on per pupil population, has also been received, and this amount has no restrictions except to cover asbestos removal. The board stated it must buy buses with part of the money left over upon completion of the asbestos removal, but hinted it might use a portion to aid in the school construction in Kinston. No matter how the second fund is used, Vaughan assured all present, "We will build a new elementary school in Kinston."

While on the subject of the new school, the board voted to employ Mizell Architects, of Ozark, to draw up preliminary plans for the construction. The architects will be in Elba in picking a site for the school, figure cost estimates and help make any adjustments to the plans before final plans are agreed on. The board also discussed the new elementary schools constructed at Zion Chapel and New Brockton in recent years, and agreed on improvements which should be made at the Kinston school. Before leaving the subject, the board instructed Vaughan to pick three possible sites for relocation at the next meeting, to be held on March 7, at 5:30 p.m., in Kinston.

In a surprise announcement, the board was informed that Kinston High football coach Ricky Rainer had resigned. According to the letter of resignation, Rainer's resignation was due to personal and professional reasons, stating he wished to devote his time to teaching. The board accepted the resignation and agreed to advertise the coaching vacancy after spring training.

Assistant coach Bobby Mancini and basketball coach Pete Kelley will conduct spring training.

Miss Rhonda Baker, a senior at Zion Chapel High School and a student at the County Vocational School, was honored for winning a local F.B.L.A. contest held at George C. Wallace Community College. Baker, a state winner last year who also competed nationally, won the Accounting Procedures competition at the recent contest among students from eight southeast Alabama school systems. Miss Baker, along with her instructors Mrs. Vernette Maddox and Mrs. Golda Donaldson, were present at the meeting.

According to Supt. Vaughan, the Enterprise School Board is in violation of a 1972 agreement concerning bus routes. A bus driver from Enterprise is reportedly running a route which includes a portion of the county school zone and the bus is picking up 10-11 students that should attend a county school. The Enterprise superintendent has agreed to stop the driver from picking up the students, however, since a county bus also enters the Enterprise zone, Vaughan recommended no action be taken during the current school year. The board will sign a letter, along with the Enterprise board, informing the residents involved that they are in violation of the agreement and will not be provided with bus service next school year, except to the school in its district.

In other action at Monday's board meeting, the county school board:

- *discussed the possibility of renovating part of the Kinston elementary school for use as rooms for vocational agriculture and home economics (the renovation would take place upon completion of the new elementary school);
- *heard Supt. Vaughan report that a check into fund-raising activities at one school and one at another school (the additional activities were in conflict with county policy);
- *adopted a policy setting an agenda three days prior to each meeting, with only emergency exceptions to be allowed to be added;
- *was told the enrollment in the county schools was exactly the same as the year before and informed a teaching unit had been gained;
- *and, commended the New Brockton Athletic Club for paying off a note on the field house addition to the gym.
